

U OF A CFS REFERENDUM RESURRECTED

EDMONTON (CUP)—Students at the University of Alberta are once again members of the Canadian Federation of Students.

The University Disciplinary Panel overruled Jan. 3 a student board's decision to void this fall's CFS referendum.

Students had voted 56 per cent in favor of joining the federation Oct. 21, but the student-run Discipline, Interpretation and Enforcement board overturned the results after student Gordon Stamp complained there was insufficient opportunity to form a "No" campaign. Stamp also said "yes" campaigners made unfair use of CFS posters and buttons.

The panel—an administration body—acknowledged irregularities in the CFS-yes campaign, but felt they were too minor to affect the 350 vote margin.

CFS chair Graham Dowdell was "very pleased with the decision. It's going to be a big challenge and opportunity for us."

The U of A is now the largest member of CFS and "will give us momentum," says Dowdell. CFS plans referenda on 10 to 15 campuses this term.

And U of A will bring approximately $100,000 to the financially troubled federation when fees are paid in September.

Dowdell says the U of A's membership will be particularly important for Alberta. "After the collapse of FAS (Federation of Alberta Students) there was a perception that Alberta wasn't interested (in the student movement)."

PARROT PLANS ON HOLD PENDING NEW COMMISSION REPORT

TORONTO (CUP)—The creation of a three-man Ontario task force on reshaping the University system means plans to create a new Northeastern university are on hold.

Warren Gerard, communications advisor to the Minister of Colleges and Universities, Bette Stephenson, said it was unlikely the government will go ahead with plans to amalgamate Laurentian University and other Northeastern Ontario institutions until the Bovey commission reports.

The commission will study the structure of the entire university system. Stephenson said she wants the commission to suggest ways of making universities more specialized. The report is due this summer.

Although amalgamation plans are on hold, the government is going ahead with anti-deficit legislation for universities. The legislation would make it illegal for universities to incur deficits of more than two per cent of annual revenues.

If a university exceeded the two per cent mark, it could be virtually taken over by a provincially appointed administrator.

The legislation passed second reading and will come up for third reading sometime this spring or summer. The legislature is adjourned until March 20.

Gerald also said Stephenson does not plan to grant interviews or hold news conferences while the Bovey commission is at work. The minister might appear to be unduly influencing the commission if she were to comment publicly on its mandate, he said.

Stephenson announced the creation of the Bovey commission in the legislature Dec. 15.

Upright Citizens Turn to Dope

(RNR/CUP)—Federal narcotics agents estimate that last year, Americans spent 90 billion dollars on illegal drugs—twice as much as they spent on clothes.

The dope trade is the nation's fastest growing business, bigger than any corporation except Exxon. And it seems to be attracting an increasing number of so-called respectable citizens.

Auto millionaire John DeLorean is just one of many prominent figures who have been linked to narcotics trafficking. In the past six months, similar allegations have involved a Baptist minister in Mississippi, a former Florida Supreme Court Justice and the first violinist with New York's Metropolitan Opera. As one Florida drug agent put it, "We're not talking about your regular slimeball anymore."

And it's not just big shots, either. A Justice Department official says you'd have to go back to prohibition to find a comparable level of police corruption.

In the last year, three North Carolina police chiefs and three Tennessee county sheriffs have been indicted or convicted of smuggling.

And a federal undercover agent who helped bust 120 pot dealers last year is now awaiting trial for... importing marijuana.

OTTAWA CREATING NEWFOUNDLAND SEPARATISM

ANTIGONISH* N.S. (CUP) Newfoundland separatism is a real and growing threat says former Liberal MP Richard Cashin.

Cashin, current president of the Newfoundland Food, Fish and Allied Workers Union, recently warned mainlanders at St. Francis Xavier University of the islanders' malcontent.

Cashin said there is a "debilitating feeling" sweeping the province, and a cynicism toward Ottawa especially among the young.

To Cashin, Newfoundlander premier Brian Peckford is the provinces' Rene Levesque.

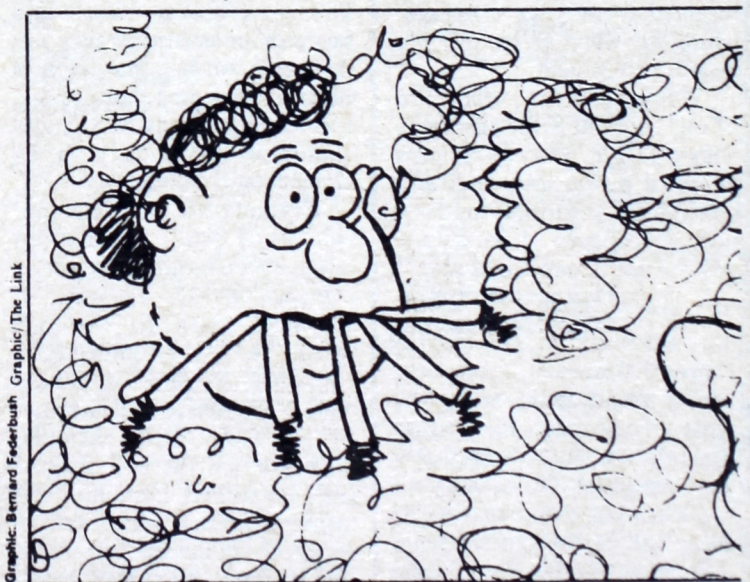

"Brian Peckford speaks our language," says Cashin. "He has wrapped himself in the flag and his government sees itself as the personification of Newfoundlans."

Cashin blames Ottawa's "arrogant and incompetent" attitude toward Newfoundland for the recent poll results which indicate that 19 per cent of Newfoundlanders favor secession from Canada.

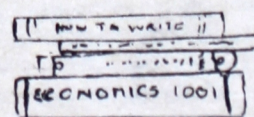

"If the federal government deal with Newfoundland on oil like it did in fisheries, then not only do we have to get rid of this government, but we have to get rid of all governments like it," he said.

"Ottawa has not seriously considered or understood the danger of consorting with the quasi-separatist bureaucrats of the Newfoundland government who feed on the alienation of the provinces' population."

Says Cashin, "if we strike oil, God help us."

EDITORIAL: ANARCHISTS ARE MENTAL MIDGETS

By Stephen Glass

Someone or group has been painting the school green these days—literally. You may have seen their work, a green spray-painted "A" in a circle.

It occurred to me that perhaps someone had finally decided to do a student evaluation of the school. But that isn't likely because the grade is too high. A "B", maybe.

No my friends, according to our sources, such a symbol is commonly used by Anarchists. That's right, these aren't your common, everyday, lower-than-the-belly of a snake vandals. They're a new, improved, much lower-than-the-belly-of-a-snake, slime-ball, politically-motivated vandals.

Don't rashly rush to conclude that I don't have any respect for Anarchists. I share their concerns about BIG BROTHER, the power of the State, and the need to bring power back to the individual. I share their belief that a social revolution is necessary to bring justice to a world that dehumanizes people.

They claim to want to destroy authoritarian rule and bring about a society where each person shares in decision-making. That's a nice idea but I don't believe them.

For example, I wasn't asked whether I wanted my university defaced by green spray-paint. I'll bet 99 per cent of other students weren't either. You see, they really don't believe in collective decision-making. We, are misguided creatures in need of enlightenment. They, are the enlightened.

The French philosopher Bernard-Henri Levy is right to accuse the anarchists of "a dubious and dangerous philosophical naivete."

To know the consequences of the "withering away of the State" we need only look to the atrocities of Cambodia and Lebanon. Scratch an Anarchist and you'll find a Fascist, a Communist or some other Totalitarian. After all, they're simply different sides of the same turd.

An Anarchist by the name of Tkatchev claimed he would liquidate every vestige and memory of the old world by exterminating all adults over twenty-five. Apparently in Cambodia they felt the cut-off should be sixteen.

The only difference between those Anarchists and the Anarchists now practicing their armchair revolution in Canada and on campus is the latter's failure to realize the logical consequences of their philosophy.

As Orwell I am sure would say, they are light-weight philosophers of unplumbed shallow thinking, playing with fire without knowing how hot it is.

Dear Editor:

I would like to call to the attention of all Laurentian students, faculty and staff that year book purchases must be made this week. This is the final week for buying a 1983-84 year book. Along with buying the '84 year book, you will receive a free '82 year book. A booth is set up in front of the Great Hall. You can also leave your name and telephone number at the SGA office. Year books are $15.

Please order now as we are printing only the number of copies sold.

Either students and faculty do not know that a year book exists or they simply do not want or care for one. As of yet we do not even have half of the number of copies of the year book sold that are required.

If five hundred copies of the year book are not sold by the end of January, there will not be a year book.

If the year book does not go through, students and faculty who have purchased year books will regretfully have their money refunded. If anyone would like to help us sell the year books, or help in any other way please call me, Sandra, at 674-6806.

Also, calling attention to all graduates, this Friday is your last chance to get your year book pictures taken by the photographer on campus. He is located in Conference Room B from 10-3 p.m. If any student councils, faculty members, staff, student organizations or clubs, or groups of students would like their pictures taken free of charge for the year book, please leave your name and number at SGA office.

If anyone has any other ideas or suggestions, we would be glad to hear them. If the year book does not go through this year, it might be a long time before another attempt will be made to have a year book on campus.

Show your spirit and buy a year book NOW!

Dear Editor

LAMBDA as we know it has let us down. If Free Press is essential to a free society, we must ask aloud, does a Free Press practice news blackouts? On January 6th, 84, Anarchist Students for Change submitted an anonymous letter to the LAMBDA offices. The letter was not published. Recently adopted principles of the Canadian University Press state "the newspaper must provide a forum for the free exchange of ideas and opinions."

We demand an inquiry to determine if any LAMBDA members have acted irresponsibly or abused their powers in the handling of our letter. SFNPN, in LAMBDA's own words, "a politically motivated underground group", received front page coverage, while we were given the Big Brother treatment.

We demand the publication of our original letter and some answers. As anarchists, this abuse of power and rules and control of information, is a primary concern — we do not wish to see it happen again.

God save the Queen
Margaret Thatcher

Editor's Note:

The initial letter from the Anarchist Students for Change was rejected on the basis that it was unsigned. According to the Lambda Constitution we accept all signed letters from members of the Laurentian community. We will agree to publish letters under a pseudonym but the authorship of all letters must be open to confirmation by Lambda. We are not able to publish the letter as authorship has been established.

The SFNPN letter was published as an exception on the basis that it was a joke. I

Dear Editor:

It's the dawn of 1984 and the world is getting worse, not better. Human rights violations, rampant unemployment, nuclear arms, world starvation, and war are the rule, not the exception. American aggression, not an imaginary Soviet menace, is the real threat to Canada. We reject government terrorism and support liberation movements wherever they occur.

We reject the authority of the government. It is a farce which has been waging three hundred years of genocidal war against the Indians, the original inhabitants of this land, and which not only sanctions but facilitates corporate investment in the Third World, blood money that maintains brutal dictatorships. The government plans and executes massive attacks on the environment, participates eagerly in the global arms race, and fundamentally directs and maintains our society in its violence and blindness.

Examination of racial imbalance of prison populations relative to overall society, and comparison of records of sentences given to the rich versus the poor, indicates a consistent pattern of fundamental prejudice and inequality in law. Such examples illustrate that the authority of law is neither infallible or impartial. The legal system serves to maintain the status quo of those who have against those who have not.

assume that the members of ASC do not consider themselves a joke. As for "demanding" that it not happen again; there would be no need to make demands if they would follow the basic rules which are applied equally to all students.

When the laws of society serve to protect the greatest violence, it is imperative that individuals take responsibility for their own perception and understanding of the world and act in accordance with their own consciences. We must weigh what is said against what is done and identify the sanctioned crime of the property holder for what it is — crime against humanity and the earth. Crimes of self-defense are in reality no crimes at all.

American complicity in El Salvador, Guatemala, the Philippines, and Grenada, etc, ad infinitum, clearly illustrates who the real criminals are.

Cruise and perishing missiles threaten all life on the planet while defense costs create massive unemployment, cuts in social services, and Third World conditions here at home.

As Canadians, our apathy allows us to be drawn into the nuclear Armageddon around the corner. Laurentian students are too interested in beer and football to be concerned about their own future.

We are witnessing a world revolution. Awareness is only part of the solution — action is the prerogative.

In solidarity,
Anarchist Students for Change

Dear Lambda:

We at Huntington College would like to thank Ken McNeil and the SGA and Pie Ferlatie of the athletic centre for their persistence and successful efforts in getting the trail from the Athletic Centre cleaned and lined with wood chips. Many Laurentian students, including a great number of Huntington students use this trail daily, and we all know the positive difference this effort has made. The improvement is greatly appreciated by all at Huntington.

Sincerely,

Sandra Kapasky

OPINION

WHY SHOULD YOU PAY TO SEE THE VOYAGEURS

In the January 12th issue of Lambda there were an interesting pair of articles facing each other, one on the existence of God and the other on reducing stress. I wonder how many people have ever thought about how the two can be related.

Reflexology may well reduce the effects of stress once they have materialized but it does nothing to help avoid stress in the first place. Exams, assignments, essays, and the non-academic facts of student life cause great quantities of stress for just about everybody but the question is, why?

Much of our stress is the result of uncertainty—will the exam be easy or hard? what if I fail? how can I get a job if I don't get the best marks? These are all fair questions but, as we all know, the answers are hidden from us until we get there. Because we can't know the answers to these crucial questions we worry. This worry is the source of most of our stress.

So how is God related to all this? First of all, if you have a Bible open it to the Gospel of St. Matthew at the beginning of the New Testament, about two-thirds of the way through the Bible. Now find chapter six, verse twenty-five and read through to the end of the chapter. If you don't have a Bible that's okay just read on.

It may seem like pie-in-the-sky, Christian fantasy-land thinking but it really isn't. It says don't worry. Why? Because if you trust in God He will provide for all your needs. God is awfully big and He does have the whole world in His hands. If you trust Him to take care of you, He will. If you really trust God then you don't have to worry about all those questions that cause so much stress.

I don't doubt that many of you are shaking your heads thinking that looking for God's help is simply a crutch and isn't realistic. Or, maybe you want to learn about how God can help your life. Either way, why not come out to Saturday's meeting of Laurentian Christian Fellowship at 7:00 p.m. in C-309. We would happily talk to you about your questions, concerns, or doubts. After all, what have you got to lose?

Our topic for that evening will be time management, which is a great concern of us all. Hope to see you there.

By Pat Pickard
Varsity Field Hockey Coach
Assistant Professor &
Co-ordinator of Women's Athletics

In 1967 I came to Laurentian University as Co-ordinator of Women's Athletics. To be quite truthful, at that time, I had decided to stay for only one year. Prior to then I had not heard too many good things about Sudbury and had never heard of Laurentian University at all!

Now, seventeen years later, I am still here. At no time in all those years have I ever given serious thought to leaving. There are obvious reasons why I have stayed. I've enjoyed the people I work with and I've enjoyed the opportunities I've had to teach and coach. But, also, more importantly, I have treasured the enthusiasm and dedication of my athletes and students and also the support we have received from the administration and the students of this university.

Laurentian University is a unique institution. With one of the smallest student body population in Canada, we have one of the highest profile athletic programs. Led by national champion soccer and women's basketball teams all Voyageur teams have performed well over the years in OUAA, OWIAA and CIAU competitions. They perform for themselves and for you.

However, as we begin 1984, our pursuit of excellence has been costly. I do not criticize the university when I say that the budget has not been sufficient in its own to maintain a quality program. "They" have attempted to do their best. We would like them to do more; but, in fairness, they have been better than about 80% of other Canadian universities. However, it simply is not enough.

Our equipment budget alone has not increased at all in the past 7 or 8 years. Also, unlike many other Canadian schools, a great deal of the equipment is used by the undergraduate program. Their services program for community involvement, camps, workshops, summer games, etc. It doesn't last forever. One leather basketball today costs more than $85, one average-priced field hockey stick $45 and a soccer ball $95.

In 1967, Peter Ennis, now our women's basketball coach, was then a Voyageur football player and was given a sufficient $7 a day for meals while on road trips. Today, in 1984, all our athletes still try to survive on $7 a day!

Our isolation has cost us as well. Except where necessary the team "Greyhound Bus" is a thing of the past. Our Voyageurs vans are our only life-line to the cities of the south. Subsidizing their meals out of their pocket (you can't eat at McDonald's for $7 a day now!), spending long hours on the road, our athletes survive because they want to play. The OUAA and the OWIAA are two of three Conferences in Canada which do not allow athletic scholarships.

Our coaches know that in order to provide quality programs to attract good high school athletes, they must provide a sound, quality program; athletes know that once they get here they have something special — it may be undefinable, but for most of them it is the "Laurentian Experience!"

The athletes realize, that because of the financial restraints, they must assist in the development of their program. They sell T-shirts, turtle necks, run bingos and dances. They make their program possible and have done their part.

You, the student at Laurentian University have contributed — certainly that is obvious from the contribution you made at the McGill-Laurentian soccer game for the national championships. As a representative from the CIAU national office said: "I have never seen such fantastic student support at a Canadian university soccer game." You should be proud.

We appreciate your support — do your part — pay $1 to see the Voyageurs.!

STUDENT LOAN RIP OFF

by Kevin McGilly
reprinted from the X-Weekly
by Canadian University Press

ANTIGONISH Mike (not his real name) received both a Nova Scotia bursary and a Canadian Student Loan.

He admits he doesn't need the money.

Mike's father owns his own company and so he plows all his profits "back into the company" and declares no personal income. This means when the government asks Mike what his parents make, and whether they can make a "parental contribution" to his education costs, he can say his father doesn't have an income.

Mike's family is definitely middle class.

When Mike fills out the application forms for loans and bursaries, he does what the government suggests and claims he only saved 40 per cent of his summer earnings. In fact he saves a lot more.

Finally, when the government asks Mike what kind of savings he has, Mike only tells him how much money he has in three bank accounts.

Mike has four bank accounts, and not surprisingly, the one he neglects to mention has the largest balance.

What does Mike do with his bursary money? Over the last two years, he has bought himself an impressive stereo system.

And what does he do with the loans? That's what the fourth bank account is for.

What about the others who can't go to university because he didn't get a loan? "If someone else were doing it," Mike says, "I would say it's unfair. But I don't give a shit until I get out of here."

Mike isn't doing anything that most people wouldn't do. In the case of student aid, what one person gets and doesn't need, can deprive someone who really needs it.

LAURENTIAN ASSOCIATION OF WOMEN SETS OBJECTIVES

The Laurentian Association of Women is recruiting members on campus. This organization is in its first year and is taking shape slowly yet cohesively as more and more women take interest.

To date we have established seven objectives for the group.

1(To provide support for women of the Laurentian community

2(To establish and maintain liaison with other women's groups

3(To assist and develop awareness of the specific needs and concerns of the women within our community

4(To organize around women's issues on campus and to defend women's rights wherever they are not upheld

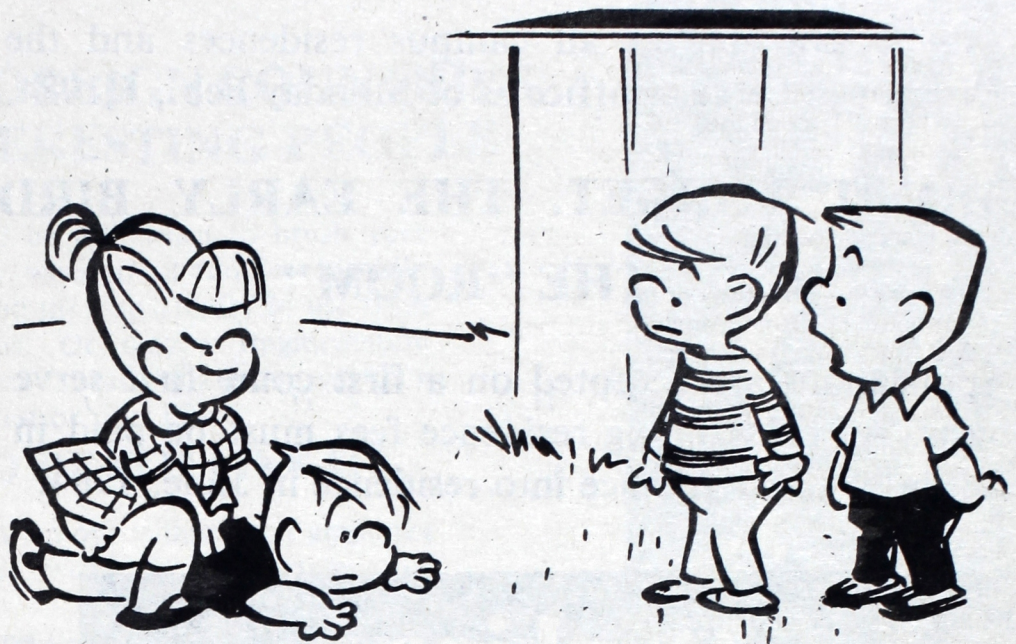

5(To encourage and promote involvement and membership in the association

6(To provide education and forums for discussion of topics pertaining to women's issues

7(To provide women with a meeting place and a group to meet with.

Our membership is open to any women of the Laurentian community, students, faculty, staff, who agrees with the association's objectives. We meet every Wednesday at 5:30 at the Great Hall to discuss business, upcoming events, and issues that pertain to our objectives. We are currently in the middle of a membership drive but we are making time to draft our constitution as well as a campaign in support of a women's commissioner on the SGA.

The women's association sees the upcoming referendum as a vital issue that all students of Laurentian should be concerned with. Particularly, we urge all people to vote YES for the articles on the Women's Commissioner and the International Students Commissioner. These two bodies of people have special needs and concerns, beyond the common needs and concerns of the entire student body, that can only be fairly represented through a voice that is designated these particular responsibilities.

LET'S KEEP IT A SECRET

My best friend is now enrolled in one of the colleges in a university in Southern Ontario after having spend three years here at Laurentian. When I was down to see him in the early part of November I was shocked to hear that he spent more than a few minutes each day defending Laurentian and Northern-Ontario in general. He said at one point "Do you know what one fellow said yesterday when I was asked about where I got my BSc? He said: 'Laurentian — Oh yes, that is somewhere in Quebec. Isn't it?' I was furious."

I tried to calm him. I suggested that he should adopt these alternatives:

A) lie — tell them you are from Toronto or from out of the country i.e. Nigeria

B) stay silent — don't tell them anything that might make Northern-Ontario sound interesting.

C) learn a foreign language and pretend you don't speak English.

It didn't work. I am told that he is still quietly whispering to people about how it was Laurentian. I have a feeling that the people he talks to don't believe him for these reasons:

A) they never had real professors.

B) They never had classes smaller than 50.

C) None of the professors ever knew them by name.

Those who do believe him sit in mock horror for these same three reasons and wonder what it would have been like if they had gone on field-trips or had classes smaller than twenty.

Let's keep it a secret.

MARCHING TO THE TICK OF A DIFFERENT CLOCK

(RNR/CUP)—Scientists say they may have discovered who some people are impulsive and others aren't. Their internal clocks are different.

University of Texas psychiatrist Ernest Barratt says impulsive people have a faster inner tempo which makes time seem to pass more slowly. For some reason, Barratt says, impulsive people have a poor sense of rhythm, meaning they aren't very good at tasks requiring precise timing.

He also found impulsive people are more willing to predict the future, which may account for their tendency to take risks, but they are much less aware of what's happening in the here-and-now.

CANADIAN STUDENTS BIG DRINKERS

University students across Canada are consuming more alcohol than is the norm among the adult population.

The Addiction Research Foundation says 90% of Canada's 400,000 university students drink some amount of alcohol as compared with about 85% of all Canadian adults. The study also says at least 70% of all university students drink more than once a week, compared with just 61% of other adults.

The study also says 34% of students, those who consume more than one-and-a-half drinks a day, are classified as heavy drinkers while 12% of students are downing 58 to 120 drinks a month.

Michael Goodstadt, a foundation executive and co-author of the report, says Canada could suffer a new kind of "brain drain" unless universities cork the flow of booze.

The report says a significant minority of university students drink heavily, if not excessively and students are drinking more often and getting drunk more often than their predecessors did 25 years ago.

The International Students' Organization

The International Students' Organization (I.S.O.) was formed about sixteen years ago on the campus of Laurentian University, to cater to those persons of the University Community who had come from another country, province or city and who were willing to participate in a social, educational and cultural exchange. The organization thus serves as a platform where students of different social, economic and cultural backgrounds could communicate with each other in an atmosphere of international brotherhood.

The very name of the Organization suggests that it is totally international, composed of Canadians and non-Canadians. This internationalism is also reflected in our general membership which includes Canadians and people from just about every continent on this globe.

In 1972 there were only thirty members in the I.S.O. In 1973 our membership rose to two hundred and fifty; it dropped slightly below one hundred in 1976. This year our membership has grown to one hundred and sixty. Membership fees are only three dollars for the whole academic year. This small fee entitles the member to attend all the regular functions of the Organization, at two-thirds of the non-membership price. He or she is also given the opportunity to vote on ideas put forward, or to come up with ideas of their own, with regards as to what they would like to see the Organization doing.

Sudbury, like many other cities in Canada, is made up of a mosaic of cultures. We are now beginning to benefit from this rich reservoir and establishing the much needed rapport between the various Colleges and the Student Community. Like-wise, we also try to act as a bridge between the Student Community and the General Community at large. It was with this in mind that the International Students' Organization began sponsoring "International Week" in 1971. This is an annual event which will be held in February. During this week, in co-operation with our friends in the community, we present such activities that will highlight Canada's multi-cultural heritage. We also draw attention, through films, speakers, etc. to the problems of development in the world today. There are exhibitions, multi-religious services, concerts, seminars/conferences and the like. This week is definitely growing in popularity and draws significant crowds from the community.

As the year progresses, the Organization promotes and encourages student awareness. This is done through having outside speakers at the University, free film shows, and discussion groups on issues of culture and development and other topics of interest. In view of the present crisis that Canada is facing with national identity and unity, this year promises to be most challenging and exciting—along the lines of discussion and trying to assess what should be the proper contribution of students to national unity. We encourage our members to act as resource personnel to the history and geography departments.

We have not limited our message of good will and understanding to the Sudbury area only. Whenever possible, we have taken the message abroad. In 1973, the Organization with the support and backing of the University and the Regional Government, undertook a good-will trip to the students at the University of George Town, Guyana. The trip, which lasted for about ten days, culminated in the signing of the "Friendly Agreement" between the students of the two universities.

Article 1 of this agreement outlines the basic reason for the contract: "To establish fraternal, educational, social and cultural ties, with a view to promoting good relationships between the student communities of the University of Guyana and Laurentian University. Ever since the signing of the agreement in 1973, this Organization has upheld the principles involved. A similar commitment has been shown by the students at the University of Guyana. This was clearly demonstrated in their return visit to Laurentian University the following year during International Week.

The above information that I have presented, represents only a small part of the contribution made by the International Students' Organization, to this University, community and the world. This academic year promises to be most challenging for us. We have been entrusted with the task of living up to high standards that have been set for this Organization by its founding members. In this endeavor, we seek the support and co-operation of the federated colleges of this University, the Administration, the community at large and the student community. In view of this, the Organization hereby presents an invitation for membership. On so doing, you can become a part of the building process that is taking place in the International Students' Organization. These efforts promise to bear a good harvest for which we should all be able to reap and enjoy.

Yours sincerely,
Eddie K.S. Chan President,
 International Students'
 Organization,
 Laurentian University

HUNTINGTON HILITES

Huntington residents are all warmed up now for the Laurentian Winter Carnival after a successful Huntington U of S Carnival. A job well done to all those people involved in putting on this event. The Laurentian Carnival will feature many events, but one to keep in mind is the Huntington sponsored presentation of the SCTV Comedy Troupe at Fraser Auditorium on Thursday, January 26th. Huntington beer chuggers, 3-legged sprinters and tricycle racers have been busy honing their skills for these and other upcoming Carny events.

A hearty welcome to Huntington's new council members, Social Convenor Franco "The Would Be San Diego Chicken" Rinaldo, Proctor Garvin "I Just Scored By First Goal" Milne, and Anne "The Knitting Nurse" de Van de Schurren.

Friday night Brad and Tos succeeded in "dampening" not the spirits, but the feet, of numerous partying residents. Things are back to normal in H-10now, and according to Brad, the only thing that has changed is the size of his bank account! It appears things have been rather "fishy" in the I-J girls bathrhub, according to Carla, but luckily Sluggo came to the rescue. It seems that the K-L girls have spent much of their time of late improving the interior decor of their washroom this has significantly increased the average time per visit. The "Upchuck of the Week Award" goes to our own basketball star Bill Sandbloom who had trouble convincing his mother that he hadn't been drinking.

In sporting news, the Huntinton Hacks remained undefeated with another win last week with Nicki pouring in 18 points and Janis receiving the game ball for her "never say die" attitude. The B hockey squad completed the season undefeated with highlights being John Metcalfe's first goal and Augie's "No turtle-neck look" on the ice.

Till next week.

Beware of the War Horse

A belated "Happy New Year to you all UC". The New Year brought about some changes, including the Red Cap's newest draft-choice of the year, "SCOOTER," the Lightbrigade starting off on a winning note, Calinda's engagement?? Dave M.'s new love for horses. Some things haven't changed; Wooley still has the strongest arm in UC; Haddy is still going wild at the Kiss Off (congratulations Joanne Reid), the Pinmeyers will have another winning team, and UC started off the New Year with a bang (George), with UC Carny week.

Fourth floor ran away with the men's overall point title, and eleventh floor won for the girls. The most eligible beauty queen on campus is now Miss Ronny Crabbe. This year's chugg squads look well-rounded and ready to drink. The men's team includes Spanko, Dapper, Long-bone, and finally Scampy. The women's team includes Milana, Lisa, Wilma, and finally No-Bone.

There will be free bus rides for all of UC to the Unicorn vs U of S game which will open the SPAD Hockey Tournament this Thursday at 7:30. Make sure you get out to the games and buy your tickets to the biggest event of the year, Winter Carnival.

Until next week,
